AMERICA'S RECIPROCITY HISTORY

Agreements Ratified Since 1850 and Those Pending Refore the Senatc-Scope of Commerce Affeeted Thereby.

The special interest in the reciprocity Ristory of the United States awakened by the discussion which has been in progress here during the week suggested to the Treasury Bureau of Statistics a concise presentation of the history of the reciprocity treaties and agreements which the United States has had in the past, those now in operation, and those awaiting ac-tion by Congress.

The list of reciprocity agreements since 18:0 consists of:

An agreement made with Canada which operated from 1855 to 1866, under which the United States admitted free of duty the United States admitted free of duty from Canada breadstuffs, provisions, live animals, fruits, poultry, hides, skins, and furs, ores and metals, timber and lumber, cotton, flax, and hemp, and unmanufactured tobacco; Canada also admitting the same articles from the United States free

An agreement with the Hawaiian Islands existed from 1876 to 1900, by which the United States admitted free of duty sugar and molasses, and other tropical products of those islands, and they admitted free of duty breadstuffs, provisions, and general merchandise from the

The treaties made in 1891-92 under the act of 1890, with Brazil; with Spain for Cuba and Porto Rico: United Kingdom for the British West Indies and British Guiana; Dominican Republic, Salvador, Nicaragua, and Guatemala in Central Amerlea, and Germany, France, and Austria-Hungary. Under these the United States agreed to admit free of duty sugar, mo-lasses, coffee, and hides from the countries mentioned, and in exchange for that privilege those countries agreed to the following concessions on goods from the United States: Brazil, the free admission of wheat, flour, corn and oats, meal, starch, vegetables, hay, pork (except hams), fish, cottonseed oil, coal, naval stores, agricultural implements, manu-facturing and mechanical tools, engines mining machinery and material for rail-way construction and equipment; also a 25 per cent reduction in the duty on lard hams, butter, cheese, preserved meats, fruits and vegetables, cotton manufac-tures, iron and steel manufactures, lum-ber, timber, wood manufactures, wagons and carriages, and manufactures of rub-ber.

With Spain, for the admission into Cuba and Porto Rico of the following articles free of duty: Meats, fish, wood for cooperage and building, wagons, carts, cars engaging the attention of corporate bodies for railways, sewing machines, manufactures of iron and steel, oats and forage, and numerous other articles, also a reduced rate of duty on wheat, flour, and many manufactured articles. With the United Kingdom, for the British West In-United Kingdom, for the British West Indies, an agreement similar to that above named with reference to Cuba and Porto Rico. Similar agreements with Nicaragua, Honduras, Guatemala, Salvador, and the Dominican Republic. With Germany, the free admission of the following articles from the United States: Bran, flax, feathers, hides and skins, tan bark, also a large list of articles at a reduced rate of duty. With Austria-Hungary an agreement similar to that with Germany.

THE OLD WAY

Of Treating Stomach Trouble and Indigestion a Barbarous and Useless One.

We say the old way, but really it is the

We say the old way, but really it is the common and usual one at the present time, and many dyspeptics, and physicians as well, consider the first step in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain food and rejecting others, or to greatly diminish the quantity of feed usually taken.

In other words, the starvation plan is by many supposed to be the first essential in the cure of weak digestion.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure for stomach trouble has been proven time and again, but still the usual advice, when dyspepsia makes its appearance, is a course of dieting.

All this is radically wrong. It is foclish and unscientific to recommend dieting or starvation to a person suffering from dyspepsia because indigestion itself starves every organ and every nerve and starves every organ and every nerve and fibre in the body.

What is needed is abundant nutrition, not less, and this means plenty of good, wholesome, well-cooked feed and some natural digestive to assist the weak stom-

This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted and this is the way they cure the worst cases of stemach trouble.

The patient eats plenty of wholesome food, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digests it for him.

And this is in accordance with nature and common sense, because in this way the whole system is nourished and the overworked stomach rested, because the tablets will digest the food, whether the tablets will digest the 100d, whether the stomach works or not. One of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 1,800 grains of meat, eggs and similar food.

Any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remedy of extraordinary value and probably is the purset and safest remedy for storage.

No person suffering from poor diges-tion and lack of appetite can fail to be immediately and permanently benefited if they would make it a practice to take ne or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets

In addition to a great industrial exhibit, there will naturally be a great historical exhibit. Each State in the Union will have separate divisions, and the exhibits will be so arranged as to show, nearly as possible, its development chronological order.

Details of the Celebration. It is thought by some that the exposi-tion should be held on the lands about the New Reservoir, this city, while Jamestown itself, where the principal exercises would be held, should be specially prepared and adorned for the occasion with the old church wall established and strengthened, the tombstones cemented and put in order, and the services of a Chicago Fenian in Charge.

Mr. Seely declined to give particulars of those affiliated with the scheme, but it is learned that a noted Fenian of Chicago went into Dawson to take charge of the scheme, and delegates were sent to Skagway to form a branch of the order there. In Skagway the order grew apace, with over 500 adherents to the projected raid in the north.

It was decided to act as soon as the Yukon was closed to travel, and, had not the police of the north checkmated the plot, the raiders had laid plans whereby the Dawson consultrates. to rise at a signal and seize the barracks of the Northwest mounted police, while the Skagway detachment was to march in and seize the mounted police posts along the Yukon trail, having first cut the through wire to enable them to surprise post after post.

The Scheme Feasible.

Dawson, Mr. Seely says the scheme was regarded by the authorities as quite feasible; in fact, it was thought that the raiders would have been successful had they managed, as they expected, to surprise the force in Dawson. Having surprise the force in Dawson, the programme was to seize the arms, maxims, carbines, ammunition and other implements of war in the barracks and thus have Dawson at their mercy. banks were to be looted and the rich banks were to be looted and the rich mines of the creeks continguous to Dawson raided by detachments of the conspirators. For three or four weeks they expected to be in charge of Dawson, having disposed of the Northwest mounted police and confident that troops could not reach them over the lee for at least six weeks and the whole place would be pillaged and with the treasure thus secured they would then make their escape.

Nipped in the Bud. When the plot was discovered in September, however, the conspirators had no further chances of success. They were unfurther chances of success. The duties of the "party whip" require constant attendance on the part of the whip, for he must see to it that every member on his side of the House is present to vote on all party questions, or is provided with a pair; and especially is this imperative when there are several "kickers" in the ranks of the majority, and the absence of half a dozen unpaired majority members might defeat an important party measure.
